SILENT AUCTION ENDS
DEAR SUPPORTER, FRIEND, AND PARTNER,

Thank you for joining FashionFest 2020, an extraordinary style event to benefit patient and family programs and services at M Health Fairview University of Minnesota Masonic Children’s Hospital.

Driven by a passion for keeping children healthy, M Health Fairview University of Minnesota Masonic Children’s Hospital translates research into exceptional medical care for children when they need it most. For some families, we are their only hope, because we offer promising new treatments available nowhere else.

In the past seven years, FashionFest has raised more than $1.5M for crucial, life-changing pediatric services, programming and activities - transforming the care for our pediatric patients and their families. Now more than ever, this type of funding is critical as many of our families may be struggling due to COVID-19.

This year, funds raised from our virtual fashion experience will support the Family Resource Center and will provide presents, meals, and other special surprises for our patients and families during this challenging holiday season. With heightened safety precautions this year, the Family Resource Center has been providing support through educational, play, and comfort materials and programming to patients during their hospital stay.

Examples of the impact of your FashionFest gifts include funding to offer:

- Art, music and poetry therapy
- Parent date nights and family movie nights
- Massage and therapy services
- Family mentoring
- Entertainment, educational and recreational electronics and programming
- The Birthplace gifts for new mothers
- Photo Perspectives Project
- Spa Days
- NutriSource Facility Dog Program
- Patient and family meals
- Family Resource Center
- Holiday gifts

While this year has been difficult in many ways, our mission remains the same and we are grateful for your inspiring support of the patients and families at M Health Fairview University of Minnesota Masonic Children’s Hospital.

EQUATION

EDINA

“When mother of four Susan Sun conceived of the name for her boutique, she had Einstein’s famous equation in mind. The letters happen to coincide with the first letters of her kids’ names: Elliot, Milla, Cooper and Chase. “It was perfect,” she says, “because the shop is my other baby.” In the years since opening her doors, Susan has nurtured Equation, guiding its development into a haven of elevated-casual women’s fashion. With an emphasis on customer experience, Susan hopes her boutique will empower women by encouraging them to explore their edgy, wild sides while maintaining a high level of sophistication.”

GOLDFINE Jewelry stretches the boundaries of innovative design in order to create versatility in fashion-forward, yet timeless adornments. The Goldfine Jewelry handcrafted collections are built on a mission to create the highest quality pieces, designed with passion and incredible attention to detail. Designer Sara Goldfine was educated in both textile and jewelry design with a Bachelor of Fine Arts from the University of Kansas. Following her studies, Sara traveled to Paris and Milan, finding inspiration in the avant-garde fashion cultures. She began creating one-of-a-kind jewelry pieces and selling to boutiques in Miami (where she resided post graduation) as well as her hometown, Minneapolis. Within a year, Sara moved cross-country to Los Angeles where she launched SBG Designs, now Goldfine Jewelry. In 2018, after having her second child, Sara started “littleG by Goldfine Jewelry” with her sister Marcy. The sisters were inspired by their young children to start a children’s line that would allow little fashionistas to accessorize with fabulous jewelry. The Goldfine + littleG collections are inspired by the constant desire to “wear something different”.

EVEREVE
RIDGEDALE CENTER
A fashion and styling company that delivers joy one outfit at a time. We love fashion, but that isn’t our full story. When founders Megan and Mike Tamte decided to make their crazy dream real and start a clothing company, they had a different purpose: to use fashion as a way to inspire joy. Our story began when Megan Tamte went shopping as a new mom and ended up in the dressing room feeling overwhelmed and all alone. That moment inspired her to reimagine the retail experience—how it could be everything that day wasn’t—and eventually became the foundation for EVEREVE when we opened in 2004. Today when you shop at EVEREVE you’ll discover modern and versatile clothing with just the right amount of edge, curated for you. You’ll experience warm, welcoming and wholehearted service, and dressing rooms that only inspire joy.

RED WING SHOES

HOPKINS, CRYSTAL, BLOOMINGTON

“Red Wing Shoe Company, Inc. manufactures durable and comfortable footwear tailored to the needs of specific occupational and recreational activities, from farming to hunting and hiking. The company’s brands include Red Wing, Irish Setter, Vasque, and WORX. The Sweasy family of Red Wing, Minnesota, solely own Red Wing Shoe. Until the 1970s, Red Wing’s reputation rested primarily on a wide variety of footwear marketed as “work shoes,” emphasizing their practical applications in the workplace. By the mid-1980s, however, as U.S. workers moved increasingly out of industrial and agricultural sectors into service related jobs, the company’s scope changed. Under the direction of a new president, William J. Sweasy, and a new generation of management, the company’s emphasis shifted from “work shoes” to “shoes for work,” a slight semantic change that underscored the company’s new commitment to innovative lines of lighter, more comfortable footwear developed to accommodate new work-oriented and recreational needs. By the end of the 1990s, Red Wing sold more than three million pairs of shoes and boots per year, through a worldwide network of more than 4,200 dealers. Within the U.S. market, this network included about 400 Red Wing Shoe Stores (of which about 160 were company owned). About 15 percent of overall revenues were generated from sales outside the United States, in more than 100 countries worldwide.”
